AUSTRIAN REFLECTS PEACE TERMS WALKS IN COSTA RICA

MARINES ARE ORDERED TO QUELL FIGHT

REVOLUTION AGAINST TINOCO GOVERNMENT IS NEED OF ACTION.

POLITICAL EXILES FORM IN BANDS

Puntarenas and Port Limon
Quarters of American Troops.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Salvador, Republic of Salvador, June 4.—American marines have been landed at Puntarenas and Port Limon, Costa Rica, because of the revolution against the government headed by Gen. Tinoco, according to dispatches printed in newspapers here.

Revolt Attracts Attention
The revolution in Costa Rica has been going on for the past two months but has been attracting considerable attention in central American countries for the past four weeks. Forces said to have been recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua, and advanced southward, clearing a narrow strip of territory. The fighting has been restricted almost entirely to the mountainous country near the Nicaraguan border.

Puntarenas is a port on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica, and is the terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, which is an important harbor on the Atlantic side of the country.

LEGISLATORS MIXED ON HOW TO RAISE SOLDIER BONUSES

Madison, June 4.—Doubts still exist in the minds of the members of the joint finance committee over the best method to be employed to raise money to pay bonuses to returned soldiers. The matter was again opened for debate Wednesday afternoon. The committee made little progress in reaching a decision.

On days ago it looked as though the problem was solved and that the money would enter upon the scheme of raising $12,000,000 by voluntary subscriptions. There are some members of the committee, who after a conference with the people at home, believe that this plan is not practicable. There is now a sentiment developing in favor of a plan to give the counties power to issue bonds to pay bonuses for returned soldiers.

Senator W. C. Zimach appeared before the committee in favor of his bill which creates a commission for the liquidation of lands for returned soldiers and marines and people out of employment. He declared that there were upwards of 7,000,000 acres of unoccupied land in the state that could be settled. He would put a tax of $2 an acre on uncultivated lands that are held off the market by speculators.

Under the terms of this measure, which is similar to the Fletcher bill in the lower house, the state would improve these lands, furnish buildings and stock and permit the soldier to pay for the land in installments. On the land itself the settlers would have 40 years to make the repayments; on the buildings furnished 20 years and on the machinery 10 years.

THOUSAND ATTEND I-O-O-F CONVENTION

Green Bay, June 4.—Continuation today of the sessions of the seventy-third annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Wisconsin and the thirty-fourth annual gathering of Rebekahs of the state (Grand all officers and more than a thousand members of the affiliated societies from cities throughout the state in attendance. The joint convention closes tomorrow.

Suffrage Is Before Senate

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 4.—The equal suffrage constitutional amendment resolution as recently passed in the house, was taken up as unfinished business in the senate today. Chairman Watson announced he would insist upon holding the senate in session until a vote is reached.

ALL PARIS WALKS TO WORK; RANKS OF THE STRIKERS NEAR 500,000

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, June 4.—Paris walked to work this morning, no subways, tram cars or taxi buses being in operation because of the strike here. It is estimated that this morning seemed to indicate that the strike was showing a tendency to gain in all trades where there were outstanding differences between the employers and men, even sometimes against the judgement of the strike leaders. Although there was some 350,000 on strike in the Paris district yesterday, it was said early today that the number might be 600,000 before night.

The electrical workers in the power station at Vetry joined in the strike yesterday. By evening the military authorities had taken possession and the current was turned on again. Those considered most likely to be affected by the spread of the strike included restaurant and cafe employees, insurance clerks, electricians, movie picture operators, men in several branches of the building trades and gas workers. The latter have called a meeting for tonight. The railroad men also are showing signs of agitation. They are to meet Friday.

FRENCH FORM RHINE REPUBLIC, IS BELIEF

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Tuesday, June 3.—Authorities of the American, British and Belgian armies of occupation regard activities looking to the establishment of a French republic as a result of French intrigue and are themselves taking a strictly neutral attitude, according to the correspondent of the local Anzeiger.

It is believed that France is trying to gain by roundabout means what she was unable to force President Wilson to concede—the annexation of the left bank of the Rhine to the French republic. The Americans and British, however, are freely permitting counter efforts on the part of Germany which are not permitted in districts occupied by the French.

Third Army in Statement.
Coblenz, Tuesday, June 3.—Regarding the reports received here of the launching of the Rhenish republic today's summary of intelligence issued by the American third army says:

The events of the last few days which have culminated in a definite attempt at Wiesbaden to proclaim a Rhenish republic, independent of Prussia but nevertheless part of the German federation, might be regarded as in the nature of comic opera were it not for the fact that they involve the deliberations at Versailles to a certain extent. To the impartial observer the importance of the movement consists chiefly in the opposition which has developed against it.

One sees no concerted, hilarious greeting of this proffered freedom for Prussia, but one does see and hear much to the contrary. It would seem that if in the course of events the Rhenish republic is to become independent of Berlin it will require the aid of German apostles better known than those who hitherto have been fathering the movement.

BUDDIES PUT WANNA GO HOME PLEA IN GUNS

Three lonesome "buddies" in France packed some machine guns to be displayed in this country during the fourth Liberty loan drive. They enclosed a note with their addresses and the four words, "We Wanna Go Home." One of these boys was Pvt. E. S. Phillips, son of W. S. Phillips, 1213 Maple Court, of this city.

A letter has been received by his parents from H. W. Kidder, of the U. S. shipping board emergency fleet corporation, Philadelphia, stating that the boys had been accepted for the heart of his audience and always brings great applause. The note has been photographed, and hung on the gun where it has attracted the attention of the hundreds who have passed by it. The gun is displayed in the lobby of the home office of the fleet corporation.

AUTO PLANT IDLE AFTER RIOTING

OPERATORS AT WILLYS-
OVERLAND FACTORY
AT STANDSTILL.

NO ACTION TAKEN TO CALL TROOPS

Gov. Cox Waits; Mayor Of Toledo Takes Refuge in HOTEL.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Toledo, O., June 4.—Operators at the Willys-Overland Automobile company were at a standstill today, as a result of the rioting last night in which 27 persons were shot to death and 17 injured. The plant opened a week ago Monday, after two weeks of idleness.

Clarence A. Earl, vice president and general manager of the company, authorized the announcement that no attempt would be made to operate the plant which has been affected by labor disturbances involving 3,000 employees pending word from Governor Cox, regarding an appeal from Mayor Schrieber for troops to handle the situation.

Mayor Schrieber had received no word from Gov. Cox concerning his plea for troops and fearing that an attempt might be made to harm him, he fled the night in a hotel, instead of his home. The house adjoining the mayor's was stoned and his windows smashed last night by sympathizers of the automobile workers, who apparently mistook the residence for the mayor's. After this incident police were placed on guard around the house.

BOMBERS SAID TO BE RUSSIAN REDS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbus, O., June 4.—Gov. James M. Cox has not yet indicated whether he will ask the war department to assist in the investigation to what cause the late last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

In Dayton this morning he said he had been in touch with Navy General Schrieber of Toledo, by telephone. The governor is expected to return to Columbus this morning.

State Board of Health.
Dr. Hennika of the state board of health, and Theo. J. Werle of the Anti-Tuberculosis society, who were in attendance at the meeting last evening assisted in the investigation to what cause the late last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

The Anti-Tuberculosis society according to Mr. Werle would send a welfare worker to the city to help establish the dispensary and assist in the investigation to what cause the late last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

Dr. Hennika already had laid his plan for the city, and they had already voted to supply a room in the city hall, the assistance of the visiting nurse, office equipment and the sum of $500. This plan, Dr. Hennika would be sufficient to follow the work, and maintain it along the lines proposed for one year. The state board of health is to provide the clinical equipment, pay for full time social worker, and to pay for the work required, pay a physician for administering the treatment and furnish the drugs needed.

Valuable Here Clinics.
Dr. Hennika was emphatic in his statement that every city of over 10,000 population in the state should have one of these dispensaries, and he urged that the state board of health be authorized to establish them. They included Oshkosh, Green Bay, La Crosse, Sheboygan, and Richland Center.

It was intended, said Dr. Hennika, to coordinate all the forces of the community in carrying on this work and the degree of its success depended on a large measure on the devoted support given to it. The decision of the state board of health was not as yet formulated, but the consensus of opinion by those present at the meeting was that the plan for the third floor of the city hall and the small stock room was the best and the Red Cross be made to serve the purpose of the office for diagnosis and treatment. The morning hours will be given over for clinics of women and children, and the evenings perhaps two a week, to begin with, used for the men's clinic.

The special part of the medical profession is to furnish the physicians who will conduct the clinics and specialize along the different line of diseases treated. The physicians who were present last evening included Dr. Fred B. Welch, Dr. E. E. Leemis, Dr. J. M. MacCormack, Dr. A. Cunningham, Dr. W. Nuzum, Frank Nuzum, W. T. Clark, Dr. O. Snodgrass, Dr. F. B. Farnsworth, Dr. McGuire, and Dr. R. H. Hyatt.

HOSPITAL BIDS MUST BE IN BY JUNE 16

Bids for the erection of the $65,000 addition to Mercy hospital are now being received by Backes & Pfaffler, designers of the structure. All bids must be in by noon, June 16.

The blue-prints and specifications have been finally accepted and approved by the hospital board and as soon as all bids are in the contract will be let.

Huns' Defense Ready to Act

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, June 4.—A report has reached peace conference circles that the Hun defense, the German minister of defense, recently made a tour of the German coast defense and directed the personnel to be prepared for emergencies.

CITY DISPENSARY IS ASSURED FACT; TO START AT ONCE

That Janesville is to have a general dispensary in operation immediately was definitely decided last evening at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This was a representative gathering and included Mayor T. E. Welsh and Alderman J. J. Dullin from the city council, Prof. H. Faust, chairman of the Red Cross, George S. Parker and Judge Charles H. Smith, past president of the city federation of women, and Miss Gertrude Cobb, the present president, the women's committee from the organization, and a large number of the medical men of the city. The city physician, Dr. Charles Sutherland and health officer, Dr. Fred B. Welch, were also present.

In a general discussion of the health conditions of the city, which of the medical inspections of school children, visiting nurses, clinics and sanitariums, charity cases, and X-ray photographs, the whole field was covered, and it was unanimously voted that the following committee be established for the treatment of all diseases.

The following committee was named by Judge Charles H. Smith, who presided at the meeting, as an executive board to make general arrangements: V. P. Richardson, Dr. M. A. Cunningham, Mrs. W. A. Munn, Mrs. J. R. Whitten, and Ira Vortman.

The committee will meet at the city hall and considered possible arrangements looking toward the utilization of available rooms for the purpose.

State Board of Health.
Dr. Hennika of the state board of health, and Theo. J. Werle of the Anti-Tuberculosis society, who were in attendance at the meeting last evening assisted in the investigation to what cause the late last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

The Anti-Tuberculosis society according to Mr. Werle would send a welfare worker to the city to help establish the dispensary and assist in the investigation to what cause the late last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

Farnsworth, Dr. McGuire, and Dr. R. H. Hyatt.

Other physicians had signed their cooperation and interest in the movement, but by reason of special cases were not able to be present at the meeting.

LABOR PROTECTED BY OMSK GOVERNMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Omsk, Tuesday, June 3.—The minister of labor of the government, a social democrat and a member of the constituent assembly, Leon Shumilovskiy, has made the following statement to representatives of the press:

"The policy of the ministry of labor is to combine the protection of labor with the interests of the state. The interests of the working men can be safeguarded and the living conditions of the working class can be improved only on condition that the industries in the country continue to exist and develop."

"We have decided on an eight hour working day, under which the generations should grow up strong physically and morally and intellectually. We have introduced sickness and unemployment insurance. Employment bureaus, with the help of the government, will be established everywhere on the territory cleared of bolsheviki."

BOYS PAINT BENCHES

Several young boys were brought to the police station this morning to explain why they took the benches in the Fourth Ward park. Several complaints were received by the chief from people who claimed their elgths were damaged by the paint.

Red Leader Sentenced.
Copenhagen—Herr Levine, Munich, editor of the Red Flag and a revolutionist leader in Bavaria, has been sentenced to death after two days' trial, according to a dispatch received here from Munich.

BUSY IN HUNGARY

Dr. Martin Lovassy, a member of Count Karolyi's ministry and a leader of the Hungarian independents for 10 years, is being presented by Bela Kun as his bolsheviki adherent.

Dr. Ernest Garami is premier-minister of the Hungarian bolsheviki ministry. He was forced to accept the premiership by the Reds because he was the leader of the Hungarian International Social Democratic party and through his influence the Reds were able to gain followers. He broke into print rarely because of the domination of the ministry by Bela Kun. He is not a bolsheviki and supported the Karolyi ministry.

Dr. Sigismund Kunfi is a social democrat, not a bolsheviki, although he was asked to remain in the cabinet under Bela Kun, who is one of the most learned men and the greatest orator among the younger Hungarians. He visited New York with the Karolyi delegation just before the war.

SURPLUS OF FOOD FROM COMING HARVEST HELD SUFFICIENT FOR WORLD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Tuesday, June 3.—There is sufficient surplus of food indicated from the coming harvest to supply Europe and meet the needs of the world unless some unexpected catastrophe happens to the world's harvests, according to a statement issued today by Herbert C. Hoover.

The bread budget balances, but the surplus of the American crop will be 350,000 bushels of wheat. The statement says that most of the trading in wheat and rye will be in the hands of the government.

Other figures gained from the survey indicate that the sugar crop in eastern Europe this year will be 55 percent of pre-war normal, the wheat and rice crop 77 percent, and the vegetable harvest about normal.

Estimates Consumption.
After estimating the European consumption of wheat and rye at 2,250,000,000 bushels, of which between 500,000,000 and 600,000,000 bushels will have to be imported, the statement continues:

"The available breadstuffs to Europe from the producing countries are probably about 7,000,000,000 and 8,000,000,000 bushels. It would appear therefore that the world's bread budget will balance next year but within narrow margins. In any event the present indications are that the American bumper wheat and rye crops will be needed to balance the budget. The principal importing European governments have all guaranteed their farmers prices at higher levels than the American guarantee and all are involved in bread subsidies. There will not be much likelihood of much private trade in wheat next year outside of government buying."

"The European production of sugar will be apparently about 65 percent of the pre-war normal.

The crop of potatoes, peas, beans, cabbage and other vegetables promises to be about pre-war normal.

HUNS DENY SECRET PLOT TO BEGIN WAR

GERMAN EXPERTS DRAW UP MEMORANDUM ON WAR RESPONSIBILITY.
SAYS WAR WAS ONE OF DEFENSE

Admits Naval Policy Was Of Such Nature To Arouse Distrust.

(By Associated Press)
Vienna, June 4.—The Austrian government has decided unanimously that the peace terms presented at St. Germain Monday are unacceptable, the Neues Abenblatt says.

The memorandum argues the necessity of submitting the question to an impartial commission for investigation and denies there was any secret plot between Berlin and Vienna to start a world war. It says that the German government could not accept the efforts of Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary for foreign affairs in 1914, who ordered it to check the warlike aspirations of Russia.

Emperor Nicholas' proposal to refer the dispute to the League of Nations failed, it is said, because on the same day the proposal was made the mobilization of 13 army corps was ordered. Russia's imperialist policy, the memorandum argues, made war Germany's only alternative. It says that Germany's war against France was one of defense and admits that Germany's naval policy was of such a nature as to arouse the distrust of Great Britain.

Atmosphere Speculative.
Paris, June 4.—The atmosphere in peace conference circles was full of speculation Tuesday as to possible modifications in several clauses of the treaty with Germany, but nothing tangible is expected to develop until the outcome of the League of Nations conference becomes known. At the meeting of the Council of Four this afternoon President Wilson made another effort to bring about a meeting of the German counter-proposals, but the meeting ended without an agreement.

It is understood that Premier Clemenceau maintains a firm attitude against any revision of the treaty. It is understood that the clauses of the Austrian peace treaty during the war operations now have been completed.

Returned Soldiers
Split Over Strike
In Winnipeg

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Winnipeg, Man., June 4.—Possibility of trouble between returned soldier factions, who have agreed to question of approving the general strike in Winnipeg, became apparent this forenoon. After the major faction, which has condemned recent boisterous parades, participated, arranged for a parade today, leaders of the minority faction declared they, also, would march in a separate demonstration.

Executives of the Great War Veterans' association declined today to officially recognize the action of about 700 members last night who passed resolutions approving the sympathetic strike of Winnipeg unionists. It was stated that there are about 10,000 members of the Winnipeg association and that an overwhelming majority of the members declined to even attend the gathering.

The official notice to returned soldiers was published this forenoon. "To those of you who do not wish to be represented by the parade—supposedly of approved soldiers—which took place on Friday, Saturday and Monday."

"Assemble at Main and Broadway by 11 o'clock Wednesday, this morning for the purpose of demonstrating that you do not approve of intimidation of those in authority."

Problems confronting the registers in their daily work and how bills before the state legislature are providing for a standard fee throughout that state on instruments that have been approved by the association and the other listing these instruments and aiming to standardize legal blanks and conveyances, are being considered at the meeting.

FINES COLLECTED DURING PAST MONTH BREAK ALL RECORDS

"Heavy fines are necessary to keep out-of-town men from coming here to get drunk," Judge H. L. Maxfield said today.

During the month of May $1,227.38 was collected in fines in the municipal court. It is the largest amount of fines ever collected in one month in the history of the municipal court in Janesville.

Judge Maxfield said that he knew of no better way to keep the undesirable away from Janesville.

"I have given the matter considerable thought and I have reached the conclusion that when a stranger is taxed $25 and costs for getting drunk, that he will not attempt it in Janesville again," Judge Maxfield said.

"It is also noticeable," he said, "that when a stranger is given the limit for imbibing too freely that he does not return to court. He is convinced that Janesville is no place to get drunk and when he again visits the city he is careful that he doesn't get too much liquor."

BOY SCOUT WEEK.
Chicago and the five states comprising the seventh district, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois, have taken steps to do their part in the nationwide campaign for one million associate members. The purpose of this campaign is to enlarge and strengthen the Boy Scout organization. Mothers, fathers of American citizens, and other adult American citizens will be offered an associate membership which will provide a supporting adult organization to the Boy Scout which will assure the enlarged usefulness and effectiveness of the Scout movement.

The head of the Citizens' National committee which has charge of the Boy Scout week is William C. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, who has appointed in the twelve federal reserve districts similar to the Liberty loan organization district director. For the seventh district he has appointed Charles H. Schweppe, who was director of the Liberty loan drives in the fourth and fifth campaigns. The Chicago organization is now in the process of formation.

Following are the objectives of Boy Scout week:
First: Definitely to recognize nationally by some suitable program the value of the Boy Scout movement and especially the achievements of the Scouts nationally and locally in all war activities, including Liberty loan, war savings and the Red Cross.

Second: Bring to the attention of the citizenship of each community the vital facts with reference to its boyhood.
Third: Interest churches, schools and other organizations with boy life so that they can cooperate, wherever possible, in the work of the Scouts.

Fourth: Give to men, especially returning soldiers and sailors, qualified to act as Scout leaders, another opportunity to serve their country by enlisting as scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, members of troop committees and of local council members.

Fifth: Enroll as associate members of the national United States boy scouts in the Scout program and are willing to help to have it extended to more boys by the payment of one dollar for associate membership.

Sixth: Vitalize scouting in cities of 25,000 or over and in country districts of approximately the same population so as to bring about the organization of a council of the first class with the necessary financial resources to adequately provide for the boyhood of the community through the Boy Scout program.

This appears to be a fine opportunity for the local Scout organization to strengthen itself and the citizens should give the movement every encouragement during next week.

WE CANNOT AFFORD IT.
The union men of this city displayed good judgment in calling off the mass meeting which was to have been held Tuesday night, and at which outside organizers, one of whom at least, is known to be a socialist, were to speak.

The workers of this city have a right to organize unions. It follows the reconstruction plans of the American Federation of Labor and has been encouraged by the government. No one with an open mind will doubt the right of these men and women as American citizens to meet for the purpose of bettering their condition. There can be no possible objection to their organizing. They are men and women who think for themselves. But at this time when the whole nation is combating the efforts of radicals to upset present prosperity and destroy property, the laboring class of this or any other city cannot afford to allow any propaganda to be spread which will create industrial unrest. It is the duty of every worker to not only protect his own interests, but the interests of the community. He can do this by organizing his union in the true American way.

The argument is used that those who were to address the proposed mass meeting happened to be socialists and that they would not have been allowed to inject politics into the meeting. In theory this might be done, but in practice it has been found that it is rarely done.

Let the working men and women call their mass meeting if they want to organize, but let them use their own brains. They have them and know how to use them because they in Janesville are the highest class of artisans.

But let us at this most critical time keep out the agitators with radical ideas. We cannot afford to have them here.

SMOKE THEM OUT.
Government officials have at last seen the light and are going to make concerted efforts to run to earth the gang of anarchists who have been menacing lives and property through their bomb outrages.

Warning has been sounded many times, in the press of the country, showing that an organized gang in this city was preparing to strike terror in the country. Aside from half-hearted attempts to get them who have been operating, it appears that the government has done little to check the growth of anarchy.

to the conspirators in which he says, "organized crime directed against organized government in this country should be stopped."
That in the announcement we have been waiting for for months, and although it has been late in coming it is welcomed. Every loyal citizen in the country will give every possible aid in running these assassins to earth.
We might as well clear these houses now as later for it has to be done. Concentration at this time will mean a great saving of lives and property in the future.

Mexican embassy takes exception to the statement made by Speaker Gillette before the Pan-American congress in which he said that Mexico was the greatest impediment to the establishment of satisfactory trade relations between the American republics. We concur in Mr. Gillette's opinion and compliment him for expressing the thought. If Mexico does not like our opinion of her she should change her habits.

In Secretary Baker's plan to sell canned meat to the residents of Russia is seen by some gentlemen at Washington a desire to aid the big packers. Baker asks for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to extend the sales division of the war department. We were not aware that one of the functions of the war department is to act as agent for the packers.

The nation's public debt has reached the high mark of $25,921,151,270 which is an increase of $1,096,640,750 during the month of May. We may feel relieved that the present administration has done its worst in the expenditure of money and that perhaps the next accounting will show a slight decrease.

A Detroit minister has quit the ministry so that he can live a Christian life he says. It takes a lot of courage these days to quit any business or profession. He should be given credit for at least living up to his convictions if he feels he cannot be a minister and a Christian.

Senators Lodge and Borah say that copies of the peace treaty are in the hands of financial houses in New York. Still, the president and his cabinet refuse to allow the public through the United States senate to know what the full text is.

If this fellow Kolchak really aims to establish a democratic government in Russia and has the necessary pluck to put the bolsheviks to sleep he should have as his seconds in the ring, every nation that believes in democracy.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. FOLK

I THOUGHT IT WAS TROUBLE.
I thought it was trouble, it looked like disaster.
The heart in my breast beating faster and faster till it throbbed in my veins.
And something kept saying: "Look out when it rains!"
Look out when it blows!
For you don't know when the wind will be when the whirlwind goes by.
It will scatter
And shatter
The fortune you've made in the wink of an eye."

I thought it was trouble, I fretted and stood still in despair, and then wildly I hurried,
Ran this way and that, and talked loudly as though I could keep the wind that was starting to blow.
Then all that I'd feared
From the distance appeared
The storm came and went and it wasn't so bad.
It rumbled and tossed me
But nothing it cost me,
And now I can laugh at the scare that I had.

I thought it was trouble. It was for a minute.
I was heartless and sore all the time But I've learned that the cares and the burdens we borrow
Are things that we sit back and laugh at tomorrow.
So stand to the blow,
And wait till you're hurt ere you whimper and cry.
Just see the things that will be blue
Soon the skies will be blue
And you'll laugh at yourself when the storm has gone by."

Man Loses Both Legs; Girl Still Remains True

San Francisco, June 4.—One of the war's most beautiful romances came to light here recently with the announcement that Corp. Joseph Schieller, the San Francisco lad, who after both legs had been blown off by a German shell wrote home that he was "scratched up a bit" and Miss Rose, the girl who waited for him through the weary months he was over in France, are to be married next summer, just as though nothing had happened.
"Perhaps we will be married sooner than we otherwise should have been," said Miss Rose, "for he will need me now all the more."
"It is enough to be thankful for that he came back when so many others did not. What does loss of limbs mean to us when we love?" "It was up to Helena," said Schieller, "she couldn't see any difference, and I couldn't, either, so everything's going to be all right."

TOO MUCH EFFICIENCY.
Once there was a Traffic Policeman named "Jim" and Jim was right on his job and knew all the King Pins and all so when any of the Commissioners came along in their limousines, Jim always gave the chauffeurs the high sign to come ahead and the thing and they all liked Jim and they used to slip him cigars when they passed and Jim was glad because there was talk in the department about a vacancy among the sergeants and Jim knew all the Commissioners and he was almost bowed over when he heard that the job went to the cop in the next block below who was friendly with the Commissioners because he wouldn't let them through but used to hold them up and when he asked one of the Commissioners why the other fellow got the job, the Commissioner said, "We'd rather have you here because you always let us go through the traffic," and Jim was so surprised he didn't answer him what kind of a Traffic Policeman he was after he told her why he didn't get the job.

THE GULLITINE.
A grand old tool was the gullitine. When an ancient king got bad, He'd feel the axe on his old thorax. 'Twas a cheerful way they had. When the mob got sore They would take a lot and fill it in. They would lop the knobs Of the royal shobs Who would wait their turn at the guillotine.
Like a barber shop, "You're next, old top, On the big machine with its gay chop-chop." And the renegade queen Would lose her head In the grand old days of the guillotine.

A GOB AND HIS JOB.
Once there was a "Gob" who, before he was a "Gob," was a Clerk, and when he left to become a "Gob" he was colored and said he could have his job back when he was through being a "Gob," so when the "Gob" came back and went to see his Boss

Voice of the People

Editor of the Gazette:
Will you kindly permit a correction explaining the nature of the purpose of the labor mass meeting planned for last evening at the city hall. Your readers would gain the impression from the remarks of the speakers made by Aldermen Pautz and Dulin that the meeting was for the purpose of injecting politics and infusing the minds of the workers with the idea of a meeting to organize the union-organized along lines of the reconstruction plans of the American Federation of Labor which has been approved by all governmental and private agencies. It may also be mentioned that the local labor council has nothing to do with the selection of the speakers as they are supplied by the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor and the speakers' own political views are not and can not be questioned by the labor organization any more than they can be by any other body of free Americans.

It is extremely unfortunate that men will content themselves with hearing but one side of a question and proceed to act on public matters without giving the other side a proper hearing. The reasons assigned for the refusal of the hall it seems to be but a thinly disguised purpose to refuse labor its right to organize and through such organization secure for itself the benefits of the laws enacted for the purpose of providing means for the betterment of the health and the wellbeing of the workers and their families.

The modern spirit cannot any longer tolerate the old idea of holding labor down in the mud and the Janesville Federation of Labor will not permit itself to be thwarted in its efforts to secure the workingmen of this city the benefits which the organization gives them which are not due them by the admission of all governments and of all thinking men and women the world over.

We Will Buy Your Liberty Bonds at Par

On The Following Conditions:

1. The entire proceeds are to be deposited in our Department for Savings at 3% per annum, payable semi-annually.
2. The deposit is to remain intact for one year, at any time after which 25% is subject to withdrawal; the remaining 75% is to remain a second year, after which it is subject to withdrawal.
3. The purchase from any one seller will be limited to $500.00.

We Make This Proposition Because—

1. We believe that some people are selling their bonds at ruinously low prices because they fear a further decrease in price and the eventual loss of part of their savings;
2. We believe that these bonds are intrinsically worth par and are prepared to back up our opinion in this way;
3. We wish a larger number of people to know the advantage of our Department for Savings.

The net result of the above operation will be that you will be absolutely sure of receiving par for your bonds and will be in the same position as if you sold the bonds on the market today and redeposited your savings in a savings bank, with the additional advantage that you will receive for your bonds the full price paid for them and avoid a loss of from $5.00 to $6.00 on every $100.00.

Your income of 3% per annum continues payable January and July.
We welcome the opportunity to serve you.

PLANS FOR LOCKUP HAVE BEEN APPROVED

City Engineer C. V. Kerch announced today that the plans for the new city lock-up to be installed in the basement at the city hall, have been approved by the state board of control. Mr. Kerch said that the actual work on the remodeling would start within a short time.

"We have looked for proposals on cells from different companies and are awaiting replies," Mr. Kerch said. Owing to the law the cells will be much smaller than those now in use and only one prisoner will be placed in a cell.

Mr. Kerch said that he had received the information he was seeking regarding the ventilating of the lockup and as soon as all of the material had been purchased that the work would start.

"We will have to change several of the steam pipes and the work will have to be rushed in order to have it completed before the cold weather sets in," Mayor T. E. Welsh said.

COUNTY TO FURNISH MARKERS FOR GRAVES OF ALL WAR VETERANS

Suitable markers for the graves of all Rock county soldiers and sailors, veterans of all American wars, will be furnished by the county, supervisors decided shortly before the close of their special session yesterday afternoon. As soon as the county chooses a design for the markers, the county will proceed to obtain them.

The markers will be similar to those used on the graves of Civil war veterans with a socket in which a flag can be placed. The county has always furnished markers for Civil war veterans graves, but no provision was ever made for supplying them for the graves of Spanish-American war veterans. They are included in the resolution which was passed yesterday.

Highway legislation occupied the major portion of the board's time yesterday afternoon. After it was voted to build the Janesville-Evansville, Janesville-Edgerton, and Beloit-Clinton concrete highways next year, an appropriation of $10,000 was made for the purchase of concrete road machinery to carry on the work. This will doubtless be bought at once to be used in the construction of the Beloit-Janesville road this year.

It was also voted to allow the highway commissioner, C. E. Moore, enough money to hire an engineer to supervise the concrete road building. Sufficient bonds to cover the cost of this year's construction are to be sold in the near future, it was decided. The county clerk was authorized to change $4,000 from the county tax roll to that of the city of Janesville, for the cost of building one mile of the Beloit road lying in this city.

The highway committee was authorized to proceed with the paving of the intersection of Milwaukee and Allen streets in Clinton, upon motion of Supervisor W. W. Dalton.

MRS. BATES ADDRESSES STUDENT TEACHERS

Mrs. O. D. Bates, president of the local W. C. T. U., addressed the students of the Rock County Training school this morning.

Her talk was chiefly to impress upon the minds of the prospective teachers the importance of their position and to teach the pupils about the prominent people of Wisconsin.

She reviewed a little of the life of Frances Willard and urged all of the teachers to emulate her example, especially, Sept. 28, Frances Willard day.

"Few people in this vicinity realize the respect which this temperance worker gained all over the world, by her steadfast loyalty to the cause of prohibition," she remarked.

"In her book, 'Nineteen Beautiful Years,' she speaks of the beauty of Rock river and the country surrounding this city."

Mrs. Bates said that a movement should be started in the state to preserve the homes of Wisconsin's great people, as Dr. H. W. Henshaw and Frances Willard's homes, which are both close to Janesville.

In closing Mrs. Bates asked the teachers to emphasize for their pupils the evils of alcohol and nicotine.

"We went in the front of August 17, 1918 and stayed there until the armistice was signed," Dr. Van Kirk said. "During that time," he said, "I was with the 359th infantry and had charge of all the battle casualties before they were taken to the base hospitals further back."

"I am glad to be back in Janesville and the city certainly changed considerably during my absence," he remarked.

MORE HOUSES ARE NEEDED TO LODGE NEWCOMERS--DURANT

"More homes are needed badly in Janesville, and every citizen who possibly can should build or assist in any way possible to produce more houses," W. C. Durant, president of the General Motors corporation, said during a short talk at a luncheon given in his honor by J. A. Craig, president of the Samson Tractor company, at the Country club this afternoon.

Mr. Durant arrived in the city shortly before noon today and in company with A. C. Mason, A. B. C. Hardy, and F. W. Hohensee, manager of the production department of the Chevrolet Motor company, attended the luncheon at the country club. Ruhe Neckerman, president of the Madison Rotary club, was also present.

"I am not displeased in anyway with the progress made here, but more homes are necessary and the people will come as fast as the homes are provided," Mr. Durant said.

He told in detail of the work being done in Flint.

"I have seen Flint grow from a town of 6,800 people to a city of about 80,000," he said. He stated that houses were scarce in Flint and that the business men of Flint decided to build 7,000 new homes, when it was announced that 8,000 were needed and 1,000 were being built by the General Motors corporation. Mr. Durant said the business men of the town got together and decided to build 7,000 homes which would mean an expense of nearly $20,000,000.

"We are not going to do anything in Lansing until the people of Lansing show a different spirit," Mr. Durant said. He told of the great growth of Lansing as well as Flint and stated that although houses were needed that the General Motors corporation did not build houses but machinery.

ENLISTED MEN CANNOT COME TO JANESVILLE

Enlisted men from Camp Grant will not be given furloughs to visit Janesville, according to an order issued by the war department, dated yesterday.

This announcement was received by the Gazette this morning from W. N. Parker, department of Justice, Madison. Mr. Parker and his aids recently made an investigation of the conditions of the enlisted men and discovered that a great many soldiers, discharged and enlisted men, came to this city and procured liquor. The government has nothing to do with the discharged men after they have been given their final papers but they can prevent enlisted men from coming to this city.

Whether military police will be placed in the city to enforce the war department order could not be learned.

The action by the government was taken after the Gazette's attention to the conditions resulting from liquor being sold to soldiers and after the mayor and other city officials had waged a campaign against misconduct on the streets.

JANESVILLE SALOON OWNERS IN QUANDARY

Janesville saloonkeepers are in a quandary regarding July 1. Applications for licenses must be made prior to the first and the city fathers must act on the applications before that date. No word has been received regarding probable repeal of the law, making the country dry, July 1, and the saloon men are anxiously waiting before making application.

Mayor T. E. Welsh said he believed the saloon owners should make application in the usual manner and if congress failed to follow Wilson suggestion, the application would be void.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 21 and since my mother died four years ago I have tried to make a home for my father and two younger brothers who are 14 and 18 years old. I am fortunate in having a splendid maid so I am not tied down completely although I manage to keep pretty busy. While father has always been kind to mother and me he has been with the boys. Our 18-years-old was not mean, but very tractable and it seemed as though father had been growing somewhat sulky. About two months ago he got into difficulty at school—what the trouble was doesn't matter so much now, but when father found out about it he was dreadfully angry and gave him a severe whipping. The next morning our dad was gone. He had packed his bag and gone either in the night or early morning. For several weeks we worried about him and father has tried to trace him. He has written me twice, but begs me not to tell father. He claims that he is telling father and happy and neither time has he asked for money. I cannot understand this, because although father was good about giving him money, he was never very saving. I have heard from him and have had to lie to my own father. Sometimes I think he would be lenient with the boy if he returned. I want a great deal about him, for he is inclined to be wayward. What would you advise me to do?

A CHANCE TO LIVE

CAN JAKE BE A "NICE BOY?" "There'll be a concert, and you can invite any boy you like," said Annie. "If she only knew a boy to ask! How did other girls get acquainted with fellows?" They "went to places," of course. Like Fidebaum's. Or else they knew girls who had brothers and they belong to a social club. Or "G'd evening. Nice night. Don't be in such a hurry!" Annie, startled, looked up at a red-faced young man who was walking at her elbow. He "tipped" his derby and gazed at Annie with a complacent grin. He was not bad looking or poorly dressed. In her opinion, Annie had a nice one, not like what happened at Fidebaum's dancing hall. "Would you care to come, perhaps, Mr. Miller?" "Ah, shucks! And watch a lot of sissies play canbag? Not much! Say, you're too pretty to be wasting your time at those charity joints. Come on with me. I know a nice, refined place that I can see you're a nice girl. I wouldn't take you nowhere but a nice place. Come on, sis, have a little sense. I ain't going to eat you, though I ought to." He smiled engagingly. "Good night!" she cried, and turning into her tenement door she stumbled up the ramshackle stairs, disgusted with herself for following her, tired and discouraged, feeling baffled on every hand. HYGIENE FOR EPILEPTICS
The cause of epilepsy is unknown. Perhaps the periodic seizures (convulsions or lapses of consciousness) are produced by varying causes in different cases; that is, the condition called epilepsy is probably not one disease, but a characteristic of several different diseases. In a general way one with epilepsy should follow these rules: (1) Never indulge in any alleged remedy for epilepsy except under the personal supervision of your own physician. (2) Strive to maintain normal bowel function by means of diet and habit rather than by the use of laxatives. (3) Eat slowly—that is, masticate every morsel of food completely; and avoid washing down morsels of food with swallows of beverage. (4) It is usually best for one with epileptic seizures to limit the meat in the diet to three meals a week. A growing child may require meat once a day. (5) There is no doubt that active open air exercise every day tends to make epileptic seizures less severe and less frequent. (6) An epileptic who uses alcohol or tobacco has practically no chance of recovery. (7) At least three pints of water should be taken each day; cold water may be taken with meals, if desired, provided the water is not used to wash down incompletely masticated food. (8) Every epileptic individual should do a reasonable amount of manual labor every day. (9) There are at least a score of worthless "cures" on the market, although as a matter of fact most epileptics are not mentally defective. (10) In a general way, milk, fish, especially sea fish, green vegetables, especially green vegetables, fruit, whole or undenatured constitute the best diet for an epileptic.

Back and Forth.
(Great Inventions Series.)
"The way you quit little Jimber-Jaw's hair, Club," said Club, "but you always cut it too short. I can't get a good hold on it when I want to show him how much I love him."
"Club-er," choked Bla, his wife, quietly, and with a challenging light in her eyes, "are you criticizing me?" And she made a quick significant reach for her club.
"No-no-no, Bla, dear. I wasn't criticizing you, see?"
And to prove it, Club affectionately fetched her one on the jaw.
"I believe you, Club darling!" And to impress it on his mind, she let the rock fly, catching Club between the head and the Adam's apple, and his tongue had been out at the time.
Then to show Bla that he caught the rock all right, Club lurched head-on and got in an upper-cut Bla returned, and ninth ribs that Bla returned, that he he can trust you and you will be happier if he keeps you posted about himself. Also explain how distressed his disappearance has made your father. Do not ask him openly to return or write to your father, but appeal to his better self. I do not believe any permanent harm will come to your brother. His independence shows that he has a strong character. Use your influence as best you can to direct his energies in the right channels.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 17 years of age and am going with a boy of 13. He is very bashful and when he calls we generally go to a movie, etc., and he will not come in the house when I invite him. What should I do about this? He is a new boy in our town and I am very much interested in him. He has the same as said I was homesy. Do you suppose he is going with me for sympathy? A girl should not go with a young man who refuses to make his appearance at her home. Unless he is willing to go to your home and meet your parents and call for you at your home every time he takes you somewhere you should not go with him. He might have been teasing when he intimated that you were homesy. He likes you, or he would not go with you. His motive is not that of sympathy.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 17 years old and a young man has invited me to a party at another girl's house. I have not many party dresses. I have one blue silk from last winter and my mother is making me a new one. Which do you think would be better to wear? I would wear the flowered voile, if I were you. It is springtime now and voiles are very appropriate.

GORGEOUS ROBE TO ENTICE COOL REST

By ELOISE.
"Merely the feel of it rests one," said a young woman as she slipped into her favorite negligee. This very modern young person who spends her days toiling in a downtown office building claims that her favorite hour in the entire day is the one just after working hours and just before dinner. She makes it a practice to have the prettiest, daintiest and most attractive negligee that her purse can afford, and after taking her evening bath she does her loose robe and nappe and merely gossips for an hour before dressing for dinner. "After an hour spent in the folds of one of the beautiful negligees of today I feel equal to another day of labor and I always get rid of any grouch I may have acquired during the working hours," she explains. And when one sees the gorgeous creations in the shops one cannot wonder at her words. This dainty crepe de chine robe should rest even the most weary body. To discard all stiff and ugly clothes and wear such restful even to think about. This is plated empire model with a coat of pale archid meorgette to match. The collar is beautiful and edged with fine flower designs in front and back and on the shoulders and scalloped edges.

SIDE TALKS

—By—
RUTH CAMERON

WAS SHE TOO SCRUPULOUS?
Here is an interesting little tale I heard about one of the many parades that have been inspiring the country in these times that thrill men's souls. A week or two before our parade a friend of mine accepted an invitation from some friends to go to town with them in their car on parade day. They did not have any seats but hoped by going early to establish themselves in some food place. She refused four tempting invitations.

A day or two afterwards she had an invitation from another friend who had the good fortune to have an extra seat on a grand stand. Of course, that was a great temptation but, having accepted the other, she refused. And between that time and the time of the parade she had four such invitations and refused them all because she would not go back on her first friends.

As it turned out they managed to establish themselves at one of the most interesting points on the steps of a church where they not only had an excellent view but were sheltered from the wind that made many of the inhabitants of the grandstand miserable. From her description she seems to have enjoyed the parade rather more than most of the people that were partly seated. Perhaps the happy sense of having done the square thing instead of going back on her friends.

JUST HEARING ABOUT IT REFRESHED ME.
Just hearing about it refreshed me. Perhaps it meant more to me than it otherwise would because, the chairman of a social coming and garnish with a maraschino cherry.

Orange Salad—Fill orange shells with the sections of orange rolled in green dressing. Serve with dressing.
Surprise Salad—Three slices of pineapple cut in sections, one apple cut in pieces with the red skin left on, one-half cup of washed seedless raisins, blend with enough sweet salad dressing in got moisten, arrange on lettuce and garnish with a few pecan nut halves.
Peas or French Salad—Dates filled with nuts or cottage cheese, are a departure from the regular salad.

Following are a few suggested combinations for fruit salad cut across the whole peeled fruit. Serve with French dressing.

Endive and lengthwise sections of grapefruit from which all seeds have been removed. Serve with French dressing.

Lettuce, canned peaches or apricots, whipped cream dressing, garnish with nuts.

Lettuce, bananas sliced lengthwise, rolled in nuts. Sweet dressing.

Lettuce, slice of pineapple, spread with cream cheese, dressing and nuts.
Lettuce, celery cut, fine crosswise slice of dates, mixed with dressing and garnish with peanuts.

DISCOVERIES.
A Mush Hint—Instead of sprinkling dry cornmeal in boiling water always mix it in a batter, cornmeal and water to make it thin enough to pour. Have water boiling and pour in your batter, stirring briskly. You will have a smooth mush without a lump.

Cooking Cereals—By using a piece of butter the size of a hickory nut when cooking breakfast cereals it will prevent sticking to the kettle and keep it from boiling over.

Vinegar—a teaspoonful in a warm bath will take away all stiffness after cycling, walking, applied to furniture before polishing, insures a brilliant polish.

Vinegar will make a new gas mantle last much longer. Soak five minutes, dry, and burn off.

Saturate soft clothes in a well-blended mixture of one-eighth ounce of oxalic acid, one-half pint of gasoline, and hang in the open air to dry. Such dusters will not soil the hands and will retain the dust until worn to tatters.

To brighten the burned spots on kettles and frying pans rub briskly with a piece of sandpaper.

SUFFRAGE LEADER PROVES EFFICIENT

Mrs. Fred L. English, a society matron of the younger set in St. Louis, is an ardent suffrage worker. At present she holds the office of treasurer of the Equal Suffrage League of that city. Her charming manner and great efficiency have been a great asset to the St. Louis League.

De Witt and Mrs. J. R. Rallsbeck, wives of well-known farmers of Griswold, repaired the road themselves. Many automobiles and trucks mired in the road in front of the two homes. The women procured planks and a couple of shovels, and going to the mud-hole, threw the planks in the hole and covered them with fresh dirt. The road is now passable.

DICE OF DESTINY

By JACKSON GREGORY
Copyright.

"No, no, señor! Not here." Josefa shook her head. "I should know, then. I think, señor, it must be the key to some room in his beloved Spain. It is for no room upon the rancho. Of that I am sure, señor."

"What is this, Josefa?"

Suddenly he had drawn the great, heavy key from his pocket, holding it before her eyes. She stared at it, then with a little cry put out her shaking hands for it.

"That is it, gracias a Dios!" she muttered. "We shall put it back so that the master will not be angry when he returns. Quick, señor! Let us put it back. Maybe it's being gone brought the bad luck. Maybe when it is on the wall once more good luck will come back to the rancho."

It was not until he had again hung the key upon the peg that Stanway succeeded in getting the now delighted Josefa to leave the room. When she had gone he closed the door, came back to the key, and took it again in his hands.

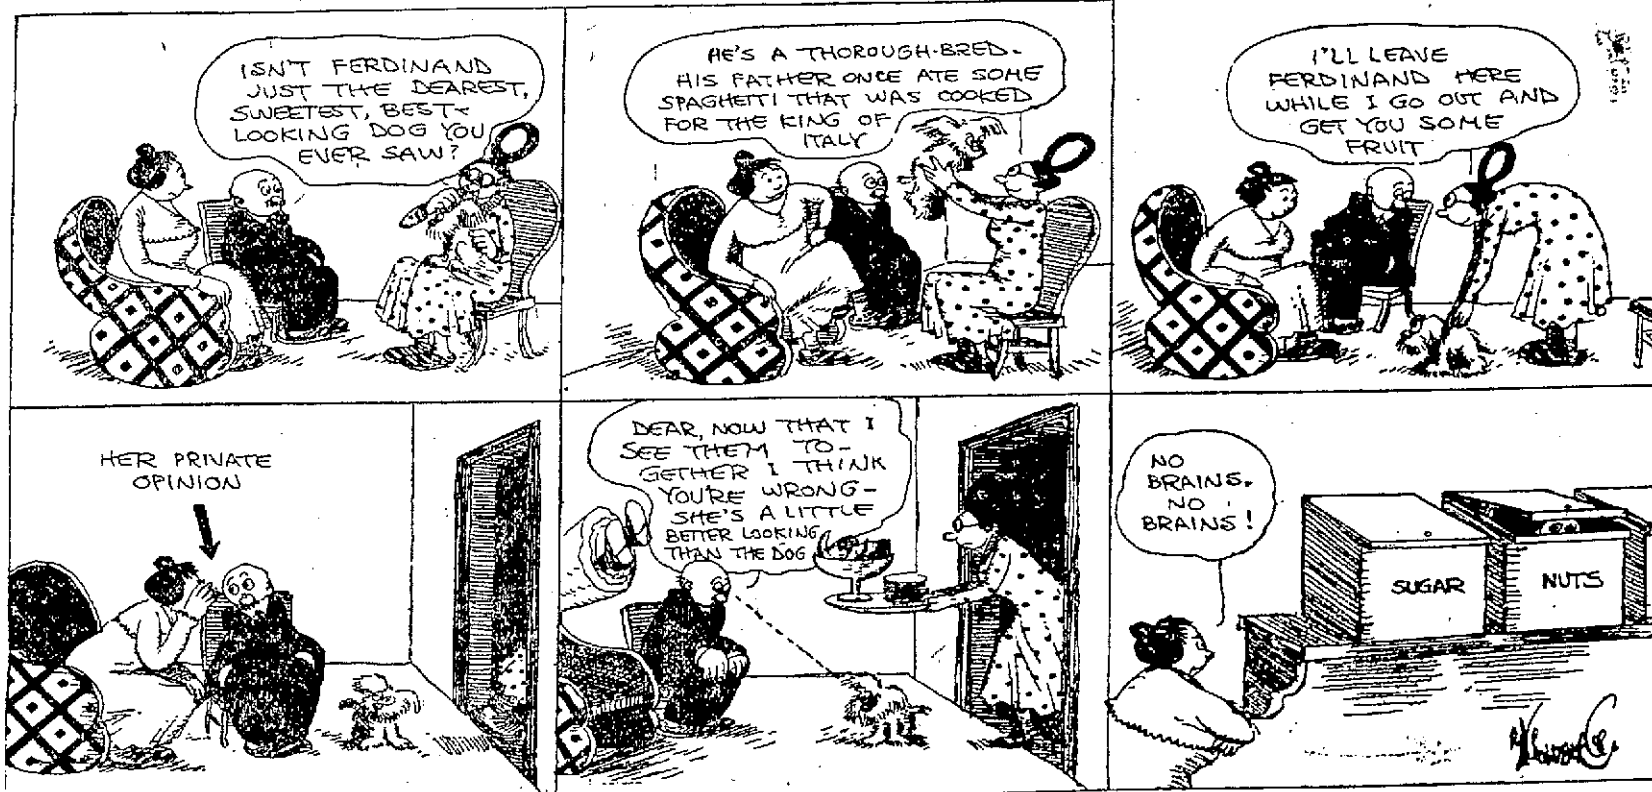

"That opens the door behind which he is a prisoner," he told himself half angrily. "He and perhaps Teresa. I have the key, and I can't tell where the door is. And it is getting dark. Teresa—"

Long and moodily he stared at the cumbersome key. Its dull surface seemed to him to be hiding from him the things he wanted to know.

It seemed to him that suddenly it had grown cold there in De la Guerra's bedroom.

He shivered, and, taking up his candle, went his way back through the drawing room, with no word to Torre, with no glance even, for he feared that now he could not let his eyes go to the handsome, evil face and keep his hand back, and at last to Pedro's bedside.

Pedro, waiting for him impatiently, tried to lift himself upon an elbow, and falling in that turned his bright black eyes upon the American.

"What did she say, Josefa?" he asked quickly. "It is the master's key?"

"Yes, Pedro," answered Stanway dispiritedly. "But what is the use? She does not know what door it opens."

"But I know!" said Pedro brightly. "You know!" Stanway laid his hand on the wounded man's arm. "Tell me, quickly!"

"When the master was young he lived in Spain, where the old master, his father, sent him to go to school. In the home there, builded of stones like an old castle, señor, was a room where many times he was locked up by his tutor because he was wild and did not fall in love with his books. I have heard him laugh and tell about it to the padre from La Panza. When he came away he brought the key to that prison room with him. That is the key you have, señor!"

Stanway looked at the man with swift suspicion. Pedro seemed excited over the key; a look of great shrewdness was in his eyes, and the key unlocked a door in Spain! If he was becoming delirious—

"I am not in a fever, señor," said Pedro quickly, seeing the thought in the American's eyes. "But that key tells me something. Every night before going to my bed I go to the master's room to see if he wishes anything, to take any commands for the next day. I went last night after it was late, just before I went to the señorita's door. It was locked, señor. I could not have gone to sleep unless I went there."

"Well?" sharply.

"I heard a little sound. It was the scratching of a window shade. I went, closed the window, and looked it tightly. And while looking for the sound I saw the key in its place. It was there at eleven o'clock last night, señor."

"You are sure, Pedro? You are very certain that this key was in the master's room at eleven o'clock?"

"Very certain, señor."

"Then—But it is impossible, Pedro. You say that you locked the windows? All of them?"

"All, señor."

"And the door as you came out?"

"I locked, señor. The key was under my bed. I gave it to you key upon the rancho—only one in the world which will unlock it!"

"But then it is impossible!"

Stanway, restless, upon his feet, strode back and forth, frowning. If the key had been there last night, if door and windows had been locked, if they had been locked when he went to the room—then how could one of the men who attacked Pedro have had it in his hand at three o'clock in the morning?

"You mean," he said slowly, coming back to the bedside, "that the attack upon you and Celestino, was made by men who are among the house servants or the De la Guerra vaqueros?"

"No, señor." There was no hesitation—the voice was confident. "The men were handkerchiefs about their faces, but I know that they were not of our men. They were strangers to me."

"But," cried Stanway, "how could such a thing be? How could they have gotten into the master's room? Then how could they have gotten to the señorita's room without some one of our men seeing them? And why should they have brought the key?"

"The key is heavy, good to strike a hard blow," replied Pedro. "If a man had lost his knife and needed a weapon he might take it. No, señor."

"But how—"

Stanway broke off, his eyes ran from Pedro's face to sweep the room, a sudden light came into them, and the blood ran into his face.

"My God," he cried, "I see it!"

"You are wiser than I, señor," Pedro smiled contentedly and closed his eyes, looking very pale and weak. "You will tell me have news when there is anything, señor? I could get well quickly with good news."

Stanway promised, took Pedro's hand quickly, turned and hurried out of the room. His step was quick, his eyes very bright.

"I understand now Torre's signal on the window," he muttered as he went. "And—by heaven, how blind I was! I know what he meant when he said he was taunting a man whom he did not like! It's the boldest game a man ever played!"

CHAPTER XI.

"You Have Overplayed Your Hand." "I am afraid that I have been indiscreet, Señor Stanway," Torre, with his old smile charged now with something of mockery and much of triumph, held out a little piece of white paper to Stanway, who, key in hand, had just come from Pedro on his way to the master's room. "But I think that I can plead an altogether unusual position as my excuse. You will pardon me, señor?"

Stanway took the paper, guessing what it was, and read it swiftly:

Mi Querido Señor Billy: To save me from all that is terrible, there is no way but to do what Torre asks. In grandfather's room, behind the great mahogany bed, there is a painting on the wall.

There is a spot in the woodwork, three feet from the floor, ten from the northwest corner, where you must press with your finger. It will disclose the hiding. Give him the money—for the sake of Your Teresa.

"You will pardon my having read it?" again smilingly from Torre.

"Where did you get this thing?" cried Stanway.

Torre pointed to the window, whose panes he had broken just before three o'clock.

"There. On the floor. Some one threw it in on the floor while you were running so giddily across the border. You see this is very well planned, señor. Is it not? Even my lieutenants—"

"If I do not do as she asks?" cut in Stanway, his low-lidded eyes sharp upon Torre's.

Torre shrugged.

"Who knows? Perhaps they will take the trouble to find a priest to give the señorita in holy matrimony to—"

In sudden rage Stanway, his nerves jangling, his rage reddening his face, leaped at the man, and as he leaped struck, struck hard—his hand, clenched fist smashing into the evil smile, cutting the lips so that the blood ran from them, sending Torre reeling backward across the room.

"Shut up!" he cried hoarsely. "You mention the señorita once more and—"

His teeth closed with a little ominous click. Torre, wiping the blood from his lips, glared at him with a boundless, almost speechless, rage.

"Coward!" he sneered. "Since I am a prisoner, with a half dozen men ready to spring upon me, you attack me—"

"Gaucho!" called Stanway.

"Si, señor!" Gaucho's brown face brightening, his eyes looking happier than they had looked for two days.

"Do not interfere. Do not let your men take hand, no matter what happens." Then he swung about upon Torre. "Do you want to finish it now?" he said curtly.

Dinner Stories

"What a lifelike portrait of your husband, Mrs. Neuritic."

"Oh, yes, indeed!"

"One can almost feel his presence."

"Sure—and to make it more realistic I had the artist spray it with alcohol."

A minister, meeting a parishioner of his who had been quite recently married, and about whose domestic happiness terrible stories were rife, saluted him and said:

"Well, John, and how is all going on?"

"Oh, happy enough," returned John. "I'm glad to hear it, you know, there were rumors of rows or—"

"Rows," said John. "Oh, yes, there are plenty of rows; whenever she sees me she catches the first thing at hand, a dish or anything, and fires it at me. It doesn't hurt me, she's happy; if she doesn't, I am. Oh, we're getting on fine!"

One of the smartest replies ever made by a parliamentary candidate was that credited to Lord Palmerston.

A heckler at one of his meetings had demanded of the statesman:

"Will you, if returned, support such and such a measure?"

"Pam" thought for a moment, then said, "I will"—"Hurry!" broke in the heckler, and his pack. "Not!" continued him and said:

"Pam" at which there were thunderous counter cheers. "Tell you," he concluded. And the general laughter made him a prime favorite at once.

Installs Mirror Curtain in London Theatre

London, June 4.—James M. Barrie may be tired of gazing at drop curtains, but London theatergoers may be tired of gazing at drop curtains showing a harlequin waving a wand or a voluptuous maiden leaning by a marble fountain, an immense mirror will be installed as the drop scene at the Little Theatre, recently purchased by Albert de Courville, London's premier play producer. The idea is Barrie's.

"My mirror curtain will provide amusement for the audience during the waits and give them the novel experience of seeing what the audience looks like from the stage," says de Courville. "I shall rename the theater the 'Looking Glass'."

Strong, Forceful Men With Plenty of Iron In Their Blood—These Are The Ones To Win The Power and Energy To Win

"Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which come from having plenty of iron in the blood," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital.

"Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found as valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists."

BILL PROVIDES FOR REORGANIZING STATE BOARD OF CONTROL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, June 4.—An effort will be made at this session of the legislature to pass the bill for the reorganization of the state board of control. Bills to accomplish this purpose have been offered at the last two sessions of the legislature, but have been defeated. The measure offered in the senate last week provides for a board of three members, one of whom shall be a woman.

Gov. E. J. Philipp has desired the reorganization of the board since first elected governor. The measure now proposed makes few changes in the present law, except that the number of members is reduced from three to two and the compensation of the members is increased to $5,000. At the present time the president of the state board of control receives a salary of $10,000 and the other four members receive $2,500 each.

If the new bill is passed the regular term of the members would be six years. The governor may remove any member for neglect of duty. The bill is now before the senate at once, if passed, and the new board of control appointed by the governor would reorganize within 10 days.

Present members of the board are ex-Gov. C. Davidson, president; E. A. Everett, Bagley River, a former assemblyman; and Miss Laura B. Case.

Wednesday promises to be a busy day in the senate. It is expected that the bill for the reorganization of the state board of control will be passed. The bill will also pass on the appointment of John A. Hazelwood, Jefferson, as a member of the state highway commission.

The senate foreign language bills are on Wednesday's senate calendar recommended for indefinite postponement. Senator Jennings is dissenting on the committee report. There are two foreign language bills in the senate, one offered by Senator Foss and the other by Senator Schultz. The indications are that there will be no foreign language legislation at this session.

Sawmill Burned.

Marquette, June 4.—The sawmill and planing mill of the Grand Lumber company at Dunbar, was totally destroyed by fire Friday. The fire started in the planing mill and the plant was soon enveloped in flames. There is no fire department at Dunbar and to save the lumber yards the workmen tore down the two burning buildings, thus preventing the flames from spreading. Some lumber near the mills was destroyed. The loss is over $50,000. The sawmill was abandoned last year and the planing mill was to be operated until all the lumber was shipped out.

FROM CHERRY-BLOSSOM LAND

The Japanese Give Good Example

It is a proverb of Cherry Blossom Land that beauty of face and figure depend on womanly health.

What is it that makes our American women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from back-ache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, aizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—when she is dragging, or bearing down, or nervous, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

THIN, FRAIL FOLKS NEED PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Power.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are constantly being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing wasted lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Smith Drug Co., in Janesville, and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which usually accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not be used with anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Come and See the New Chandler Touring Car

Most Beautiful Big-car Offering of the Season, and the Price is Only $1795

THE new Chandler touring model is here. We have waited for it. Old Chandler Towners have waited for it. It's here now and we are all proud and happy. The Chandler of the past has had splendid bodies, but the new Chandler touring car even surpasses its immediate fore-runner in beauty of line, in bigness, in comfort of its cushioning, in the nicety of its custom-like workmanship and in its lustrous finish. The new Chandler Touring is a big car. Its high hood and radiator, its broad cowl, its wide and deep doors give it distinctive appearance.

And it RIDES,—it rides like a dream

Nothing has been cut out to permit the delivery of this fine big touring car at the Chandler price. Indeed, many little details of nicety are added. The back curtain window is beveled plate glass. The clear-vision side curtains fit snugly and open with the doors. There are detachable rear quarter-bow curtains. There are outside door handles.

Features which have been standard Chandler qualities in the past are continued. The cushions are upholstered in genuine hand-buffed plaited leather. The front compartment floor boards are covered with heavy gray linoleum, aluminum-bound. The two comfortable auxiliary chairs fold away, entirely concealed, when not in use.

Carrying this Handsome Body Is the Famous Chandler Chassis

You will choose the new Chandler touring for its bigness and its comfort and its handsome dignity. But you will choose it, too, for its mechanical excellence. Fifty thousand Chandler owners know, better than we can tell you, what a good car the Chandler is. The famous Chandler motor and the sturdy excellence of the whole chassis make the Chandler notable among fine cars.

The Chandler continues for 1919 all its distinguished mechanical features; solid cast aluminum motor base extending from frame to frame, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, annular ball bearings, Bosch Magneto ignition and many other features of design and equipment characteristic of the highest-class motor car construction.

All-Stars And Beloit Giants Will Mix It Sunday

By George McManus.

FINAL GAME SHOULD BE REAL FIGHT

BY KID BIFF

Whether young negroes from Beloit can play better ball than Janesville hopefuls will be determined Sunday afternoon when the Colored Giants from the Gateway City will invade Bailey's plantation to battle Bevo Black Bailey's plantation of All-Stars, in the third and deciding game of the season's series. Empire Leo Dugan will yelp "Play ball" at 4:45 sharp.

Both sides will enter the game brimful of fight. The Stars are all wrought up over the 5 to 2 trimming administered to them by the colored boys at Beloit two weeks ago and are determined to give them a decisive trouncing. On the other hand the negroes are equally peeved over the 28 to 8 defeat dished out to them by the Stars earlier in the season and want to pick off the cotton to take back to Beloit.

The Giants were defeated by the Stars, 3 to 2 here last Sunday and are reported to be leading up for the coming game. Their manager, Willis Scott is after a Freepress battery and possibly a reserve battery from Rockford, according to dope whispered to the Stars.

Whoever does mound duty for the negroes will have to produce real smoke in order to win because the Stars have been nailing the pill like young Babe Ruth's in the last three games, piling up a total of 51 hits for 30 runs against 27 hits and 12 runs for the opponents—the Giants, Beloit H. S. Informals, and the Edgerton Outlaws. Dope favors the Stars but "you never can tell," said Manager Black today. The Stars defeated the Giants twice last year.

Hager or Black. Graesslin, director of the Stars' pitching staff, has a job on his hands deciding who will deal out the fast ones Sunday. For Hager, the "foam ball king," beat them once but he needs a rest so Black will probably start. It was necessary to use both pitchers the last time the two teams met.

Practice for the Stars was held last night and another one is scheduled for tomorrow night at 6:30 at Bailey's plantation. Art Hager, brother of the long geared slabster and an old-time head at the job himself, will be out to give the hopefuls some batting practice. He still has plenty of dope and speed on the ball and doubtless will make the men who face him tomorrow bite the atmosphere.

Sunday's game will be the eighth one of the season for the Stars.

JANES PRACTICE FOR GAME WITH NEGROES

The Janes went through a two-hour workout at the fair grounds last night and will practice in practice again Friday night in preparation for one of the hottest games of the season Sunday with the All-American Giants, a colored nine from northern Illinois. Every man is ordered to be out Friday night.

More time will be devoted to fielding practice Friday by Manager Murphy. He is pretty well satisfied with the way the Janes are pounding the ball and wants to round out a perfect nine by getting rid of the rough spots in the fielding game.

Tommy Croake, the Albany backstop, will catch George Crokan, Sunday. Croake, who keeps books as a side-line to baseball, has his eyes open for a job in Janesville. If he can land one he will come here to live.

Manager Murphy announced today that all women were to be admitted to the games free in the future.

St. Mary's Nine Wins From Croake's Cubs

The Seventh grade nine of St. Mary's defeated Croake's Cubs, 20 to 5, at Tallman's diamond last evening. Manogue twirled excellent ball for the winners, while Robert Croake started for the losing nine.

Any Seventh grade teams in the city wanting games should notify Goldwin Hallett, 220 West Milwaukee street.

DEMPSEY SHOWED BETTER THAN JESS AGAINST SAME MEN

Four heavyweights have met both Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard. The results of these clashes are interesting although they do not necessarily throw any true light on the relative merits of the pair who will lock horns at Toledo July 4. The four men are Arthur Pelkey, Charley Miller, Gunboat Smith and Carl Morris. Dempsey disposed of all four easier than Jess did.

The old John L. dope shows that Dempsey, put all four to sleep, handing a double dose to a couple of them. Willard's showing against the quartet was very poor. All managed to stay the limit with the champion and one gained a popular decision over the big cowboy.

Of course, Willard's adherents will tell you Jess toyed with the birds. But Jack's friends point out that Dempsey toyed in a more effective way.

FIRST DERBY DAY IN 4 YEARS DRAWS CROWD

London, June 4.—Derby Day, the world's greatest popular sporting event has returned after leaving a blank on the British calendar for four years. The people of London would know it even if they did not read the newspapers, because with the early morning toward Epsom Downs with the migration of the tribes of Israel.

"This isn't a crowd! It is a nation," said a French writer of Derby Day, said a French victory derby, as it is called, reaches the high water mark, there will be 200,000 within sight of the race track. The people are traveling in trains, buses, four-in-hands, delivery wagons, donkey carts, on horseback, afoot and as a sign of the new era, by airplane. Aaviators have booked one hundred passengers who are going to Epsom Downs, although the machines are forbidden to fly within two miles of the course. Thousands camped last night near the race course in tents and caterers have stored tons of provisions from 100,000 bottles of beer.

The spectacle at the race course lacked nothing of the pre-war color today and had a strong tinge of khaki. King George, Queen Mary, with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary, drove from the station in landaus. All the familiar figures from the Earl of Londond, dean of English sportsmen, wearing his silk hat to bookmakers from all parts of the kingdom, were present.

The only element lacking is an uncertainty about the big race. There will be 14 starters. Andrew Black's Panther has long been considered a sure thing, although Sir Walter Gilbert's Whiskey Magnate will be a strong contender, and Major Waldorf Astor's Buchanan has been rated as a possibility. There has been much interest in All Alone, because this racer is owned and has been trained by Lady Torrington. The King's stables has nothing good enough to start in the classic event.

WILLARD ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM WORRIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Toledo, O., June 4.—Jess Willard today entered the serious work of his conditioning grind for his world's heavyweight championship contest with Jack Dempsey here, July 4. The champion planned to increase his boxing to possibly five or six rounds and to face Walter Monahan, his chief sparring partner in addition to Jack Hempel, and Jack Lavan.

Willard confessed that this is the first match he ever made that had not worried him in advance. He is apparently sure of defeating the challenger and also is in a jovial mood, which his trainers say will make him take delight in his training. His now famous smile is in evidence at all times and he laughs and jokes when any attempt is made to get him into any serious discussion of the coming championship contest.

"Big Jess" plans to do his road work from his house in the morning. In the afternoon he will motor to his camp on Maumee Bay for his boxing and other preparations. Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey and trainer Jimmy DeForest have adopted a novel system for training the challenger to face Willard. Dempsey will train as if getting ready for three contests, two weeks apart. Next Saturday he will start training again after a day off since last Monday. In the meantime he will spend his time romping around the camp and swimming and boating.

Somehow Good

By RHODA WALWORTH

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

In jail, out of jail, for a month luxuriating on the results of a house-breaking raid, and for the rest of the year hiding, half-famished, from the officers of the law; in jail, out of jail—that about comprised a ten-year record for Dan Bentley. It hardly paid, he decided during his last spell of imprisonment, and when he once more breathed the free air he was determined to reform.

That resolution was severely tested. He had no money, his attire suggested the tramp, and at the end of a week he knocked about from pillar to post. Behold the discouraged item of humanity standing at the rear fence of a residence, his eyes fixed upon a suit of clothes, hung over a line to air.

"I don't want them to sell, and use up the money in drink," philosophized Dan; "my motive is good. Dressed in those tugs, looking half-respectable, I stand double the chance of getting work. I've a right to them as the means of starting me on the right road, and it's true charity for their owner to let me take them."

Dan entered the yard, shrewdly scanned his environment, removed the suit of clothes from the line, and nimbly put back for the alley. Across it was an old, abandoned barn. Into it Dan darted, and proceeded to camouflage his habitual personality. He had not discovered that he was observed by a man who looked from the window of the house. The latter came out at its rear door, crossed to the barn, waited outside until Dan appeared, rehabilitated, and faced him with a smile.

"Well, my friend, a perfect fit, eh?" he spoke. Dan, abashed, stood silent and confounded.

"I suppose it's the jug," he muttered.

"Why?" gently and persuasively interrogated the other, mild of manner, pleasantly inviting confidence, and Dan blurted out his history and motives.

"No money, I infer?" propounded his almoner sympathizingly. "Here," and he extended a bank bill. "Now you're on your feet; don't fail."

"Say!" said Dan, then choked up. "The other extended a friendly hand."

"I believe in you," he said. "Somehow be good. Don't disappoint me. If you don't make it, come and get an other loan. Front door this time—I'm Vincent Clevering."

"It's a dream!" gulped Dan as he slowly left the spot. "A real man at last; the first I've met. 'Vincent Clevering'—I'll remember that name, and I'll beat the drink and chivvory or die in the attempt!"

Two evenings later Dan faced a problem that considerably distracted him. In a pocket of the suit he had appropriated he found a card. It bore a name familiar to him, "Nora Paley," and an address.

"It can't be possible that a man like Mr. Clevering knows her!" he soliloquized. "If he does, it isn't for his good, that is certain. I'm going to look into this!"

And this was what Dan found out: Vincent Clevering was a young man of wealth and position, given to kindly deeds, and engaged to a beautiful girl, a social favorite, also interested in philanthropy. His indulgence towards Dan was characteristic of him.

And Nora Paley? Dan had known her in the past as one of the most dangerous of woman schemers and swindlers in criminal classes. He investigated, to find the woman posing as a poor seamstress in a wretched tenement house.

"Keep up your role," Dan overheard her accomplice direct her. "We'll spring the trap just about his wedding day. Rather than have a sensation in the newspapers he'll give up a few thousands. You have preserved the notes he wrote you?"

"Yes, but they merely inform me where I can apply for work, or tell me that he has paid my room rent."

Shocked, incredulous, alarmed, Vincent Clevering one day sat lost in thought after a stranger had visited him. This was the accomplice of Nora. Without any evasion as to his black-mailing motive, this miscreant threatened to emmesh him in a scandal that would give him unenviable publicity, unless he submitted to extortion. The amazed Clevering was sitting, stunned by these disclosures, when Dan Bentley was shown into his presence.

"I've something to tell you," announced the loyal fellow, "and I've something to give you." And he told of his knowledge of the plot against Clevering, and handed him an envelope. "There is my affidavit," he explained, "proving the real character of Nora Paley. There is also a signed letter directed to her, threatening to expose her to the police for a theft of which I was also guilty. When her go-between comes after his expected money tomorrow, simply hand him those documents. I will guarantee results."

Vincent Clevering followed out the instructions given. Nora Paley and her accomplice faded from view promptly. And the happiest moment of Dan Bentley's life was that when he stood outside of a house ablaze with light and luxury where a wedding was in progress. And the bridegroom was the man who had helped and encouraged him at a dark hour in his career, and Dan Bentley was glad because he had truly proved himself "somehow good."

PICKET FENCE KEEPS GERMAN DELEGATES OUT OF PARIS

German delegates returning from church services along picket fence which prevents them from stepping foot in Paris.

The German delegates to the peace conference must keep on their own side of the fence. The picket fence is a picket one erected on the boundary between Versailles, Paris suburb, and Paris itself to indicate the boundary and prevent the Germans from actually setting foot in the French capital. The Germans are quartered in a hotel in Versailles and all conferences with them are held in the Tranon palace in Versailles. The photo above shows French and American soldiers and civilians watching the German delegates on their return, on their side of the fence, from church in Versailles.

THE WISHING PLANE

The children were so tired that they were hardly in bed in the cottage before they were sound asleep. Booh curled up at the foot of the bed and went to sleep, too, but being a dog he slept with one ear and one eye open. Dogs do that, you know.

It must have been after midnight when Booh heard footsteps around the house. He trotted over to the window, jumped upon a chair and looked out. When he saw a man sneaking around the corner of the building he knew there was something wrong, so he just sat back on his haunches and barked as loud as he could.

Captain Brave and Prince Charles heard him just about as soon as the children did, and rushed to the window to look out. There was a serious look on their faces when they came back from the window.

"I am afraid, Prince, that they have hopes of capturing you this time," said Captain Brave. "As near as I can make out the house is surrounded." Captain Brave told the children to hurry into their clothes. Ladydear and the Princess had dressed by this time and helped the children to dress. Jack was so excited that he had an awful time buttoning his shoes. Poor little Jane was still so sleepy she didn't know whether she was putting her clothes on or Jack's on, and to tell you the truth she didn't much care.

"The only thing we can do is to take to the passageway and get into the boat," said Prince Charles. "I have two or three guns in the house, but it would be useless to try and hold them off, and the women and kiddies might get hurt."

With Prince Charles in the lead, they all went down into the cellar and into the underground passage. This time they made sure that Booh was along. Prince Charles realized that the little dog probably had saved all their lives, and so he carried Booh under his arm.

The men surrounding the house hadn't the least idea that Prince Charles and Princess Mary had escaped. They broke a light had been lit in the house and they had seen no one moving about, but as Captain Brave shut the door of the passageway behind him he heard the first of the men rapping on the kitchen door demanding admittance.

There was little chance though that they would find the secret passage if they broke in the house, because Prince Charles had concealed it so cleverly in the dark end of the cellar. It would be impossible to open the door anyway, unless some of the men happened to find the secret spring. Prince Charles wasn't worrying at all as he led the way to the end of the tunnel and the dock. But as he started to open the door at the water's edge he gasped and almost staggered. Through a crack in the door he had seen that the boat at the edge of the dock had been taken away, and grouped on the dock were half a dozen of his enemies. They did not know of the passageway, of course, but they had landed at the dock themselves to carry out their attack.

Captain Brave and the Prince were unarmed and both knew there wasn't any chance to overpower the men and get away, even if the boat was there for them to use.

How to get out of the tunnel and away in safety was the question.

Oh, Boston! Why Have You Not Confessed It?

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Boston, June 4.—There are dozens of fashionable women residents of the Back Bay who "have not touched water to their bodies for the past 10 years," and as a result are the pictures of physical health. So asserts Dr. Charles E. Page, physician, author of health books and advocate of the non-bath doctrine.

In addition to his bathless theory, he found a serious warning against the wearing of underwear. He says: "Leave it all off and you will escape colds, bronchitis, influenza, pneumonia and all the physical ailments that are commonly supposed to threaten the average human being." "Attire the body in 'draperies only' is his injunction, meaning drop all underwear, both woolen and cotton. He advises men to dress only in shirt, trousers, suspenders, jacket, stockings and low shoes. "Wear a hat if you must, but your hair will do much better without one."

Dr. Page is 70, and thinks he should live to 110 or 115, and everybody, he says, can do likewise.

Member of Dalton Gang Now Keeping Secret

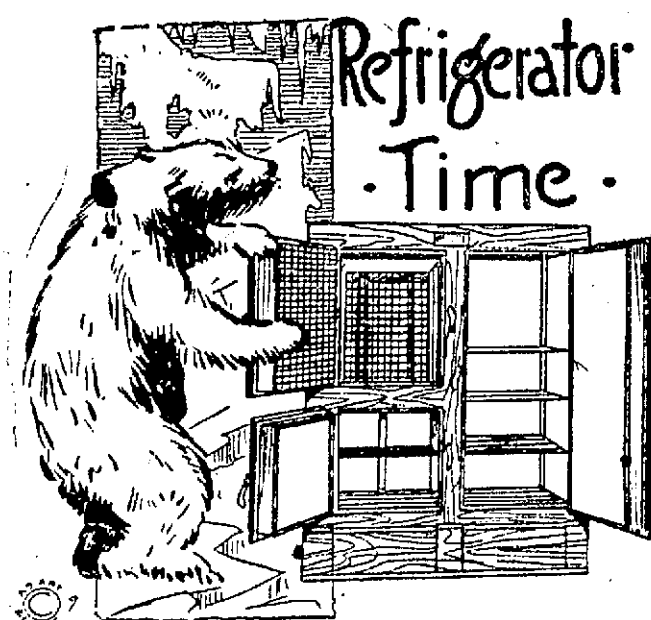

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Tulsa, Okla., June 4.—Jim Shockey, one of the famous "Dalton gang" that met their Waterloo in Coffeyville, Kan., years ago, has turned up. In the fight most of the gang were either killed or captured. In a letter to William ("Bill") Thigman, ex-United States marshal, Shockey gave details of his life following the Coffeyville debacle.

"I was left sick and wounded at the Jane Owen Ranch," the ex-bandit wrote Bill. "When I recovered I changed my name, came to Tulsa and have lived here ever since."

"No one knows me as the ex-outlaw, or even my wife."

Another famous bandit, a woman—"Rose of Cimarron" as she was known—also is living in Tulsa. She is settled now, with a husband and two children. "Rose and I have met several times, but our secret will be buried with us," he wrote.

U. S. WOMEN FIRST IN MATTER OF VEILS

FASHION TOGO WITH OUT.
In speaking of veils it is authoritatively declared that no woman in the world knows better than this American how to adjust that hat accessory. The French woman may gain a snifter dress effect with less effort, but the net results of elegance and appropriateness in veils is other items of dress, in a charming attribute of Columbia's daughter.

Incidentally, it may be said that the trench veil is one of the most popular of the season. It is a combination of light and heavy nets and is becoming to young and elderly faces. There are so-called Victory veils with border edge outlined in deep V's done in a succession of chenille dots. The harem veil is still in evidence, the plain part covering the eyes and nose, the heavy pattern the chin, after the manner of the Moslem ladies. Streamer veils, as their name implies, having long, floating ends, but they are novel in that the ends are split, being just one-half the width of the front of the veil. This gives four "streamers," where formerly there were but two.

Here are four of America's newest veils. The one on the lower left is called "Wisp." It is a fine mesh with a shadow design all over it. A satin band fastens it snugly at the throat. The one at the right is called "Wendy." The little scalloped dots and gray silk thread running through it gives a piquant touch and add charm even to the prettiest face. At the upper left is the smartness of a large rough straw sailor is greatly enhanced by the novel square meshed veil which is worn with it. Brown is the color and a novel border of brown and white wavy silk fiber in squares is the trimming. The arrangement is decidedly new and Americans. Very striking is the sweeping black veil at the upper right, which seems to hold something of the romance of the Spanish mantilla. The hat is an imported model of soft milan with a turquoise blue feather and velvet flange of the same color. The veil is not worn over the face at all but hangs from underneath the hat at the back and falls to the knees. It is sometimes conquistably held up, covering all but the eyes, but usually is worn flying out at the back.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

The Salvation Army was the only organization rendering service at the front during the war which was headed by a woman. This is a significant fact when one recalls that, of all the organizations working for the boys, regardless of persons, creed, opinions or experiences the Salvation Army was unanimously declared a success.

The Salvation Army women were mothers to the boys in khaki. They gave them a touch of home that no other organization could possibly give them. Besides making their famous doughnuts for the soldiers, they mended their uniforms and rendered little motherly services in many other different ways.

Capt. Pearl Hamilton, who is the adopted daughter of Commander Evangeline Booth, made a special trip to Washington recently to make doughnuts for the grand military ball which was given to open the Salvation Army drive in the national capital. The doughnuts were made in exactly the same way as those made by Captain Hamilton in the trenches in France.

The work of these women will be long remembered and the resolution recently introduced in the senate to award a Distinguished Service Medal to Commander Booth seems to be the least honor that can be shown a woman who has done what Commander Booth has done. And since medals are given out so promiscuously to civilians who did no more than least liberty bonds in the face of eager crowds, a woman who faced cannons and made doughnuts under heavy fire should surely be allowed to wear one.

THAT'S DIFFERENT

That Day In Jungle-Land

You two ten-year-olds had a lunch-box full of sandwiches and sliced raw bacon, which you were to fry over an open fire "like the Indians." Where the railroad crossed the creek you cut off through Porkman's Pasture to "the Big Woods." Soon you struck "an Indian trail" that led you to a regular bear's feast of May-apples and raspberries. Passing on, scared stiff for a moment at sight of a small snake which Walt swore was a "rattler," you came to a basswood with bees buzzing in it, and declared to yourselves that you had found a bee-tree containing a wash-tub of honey. At the meadow where the creek went through, you stopped to view "an eagle, but he must be a young one," spiraling in the upper air. You now built your fire and fried your bacon "like Blackhawk did."

Do you remember it all—your first real wilderness of great trees, rare fruits, strange beasts, and bird-calls? Why not play hooky tonight, and go rambling back over the green by-ways of boyhood? You can do it with the aid of a SENERO, the cigar of pleasant memories.

ENGLISH BEAUTY

Lady Diana Manners.

London, June 4.—English society has scarcely recovered from the shock caused by the marriage of Princess "Pat" to a mere navy commander and now the approach of a similar wedding gives them another decided jolt. Lady Diana Manners, England's most famous beauty and daughter of nobility's proudest duke, has become engaged to the son of a London doctor.

The fortunate man is Capt. Duff Cooper. His father is of quite ordinary birth and although he has achieved considerable success as a surgeon it counts for little in English social circles. The members of the house of Manners, on the other hand, belong to a group of families that feel there is nothing higher than themselves in England. They feel equal to the king and pay homage to him only on account of his position, not because of his family.

Known as Capricious Beauty. Before the war Lady Diana was known as the most capricious and extravagant beauty in England. She was proud and dauntless as were most of her family and was the leading attraction of court functions and aristocratic parties as well as semi-public affairs such as bazaars and other charitable undertakings.

It was very evident that she could have married almost any eligible man in England, or in Europe, prince, duke, earl or millionaire. It has been rumored often that she smiled upon several of them, but none of them measured up to the supreme test of her critical taste. It took the son of a London doctor to win her heart as well as her smiles.

At the beginning of the great war a great tragedy fell upon Lady Diana's life which doubtless antedated her subsequent actions very much. There was an English officer who disappeared during the retreat from Mons. Lady Diana had inquiries made concerning him and found he had been fatally wounded and taken to a German prison camp. She sent him a message of kind sympathy, which he received just before he died. It is believed by many of her friends that Lady Diana thought a great deal of the deceased officer, for the petted daughter of society threw herself into hospital work with all the energy she possessed. She became a new person as serious as she had once been frivolous.

Aided Cause With Photos. She bent every effort to carrying out her war work and was always trying to earn money for her enterprises. One plan which she found very remunerative was that of selling her photographs. From the moment she entered society her photographs had been very popular and she became known as "the most photographed woman in the world." All the proceeds from the sale of her pictures went to the fund for hospital and soldiers' aid society.

It was while working hard at her hospital that Lady Diana met Captain Cooper, who served with credit in the Grenadier Guards during the war. Lady Diana and her helpers aided in saving the lives of many of Captain Cooper's men. All of the capricious and frivolity of the society woman had disappeared and only her beauty remained and it was in this role of "good Samaritan" that the modest infantry captain met and won his bride.

WIFE OF ITALIAN COMMANDER VISITS FRENCH CAPITAL

Mrs. Armando Diaz.

This hitherto unpublished photo of Mrs. Armando Diaz, wife of General Diaz, commander in chief of the Italian forces during the war, was taken during her recent visit to Paris. Mrs. Diaz won many friends by her charming manner.

Girl Student Opposes Yank War Marriages

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—Miss Marguerite Postaire, daughter of the commissioner of Police of Paris, France, who is a student at Butler college, this city, likes America and Americans, but she hopes that the American doughboys come back home without her French sisters as brides. "I do not believe that as a rule a marriage between an American soldier and a French girl will be a happy one," Miss Postaire says.

Logical Congress here. As their husbands would want them to, they would be in a strange country; they could not understand the language and the institutions, and they would be misunderstood by their husbands' friends.

"The love for France is strong in every French girl. Suppose this uncle should bring children to America, we should be sure that the French wife would want the children to be reared as she was reared in France, and she would, perhaps, want them to be reared in her native land, so that they would not forget it. Her husband would differ. The French and Americans get along well together except when they get married," she added.

Foreign Buyers Invade Coast Butter Market

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] Portland, Ore., June 4.—For the first time in the history of the butter market on the Pacific coast an invasion of foreign buyers has been made. Ten carloads of butter are now on their way to England from the coast via New York.

Residents here suffered an increase of two cents per pound when the foreign buyers started their bidding.

Oyster Growers Enlarge Beds, Transport Seeds

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] South Bend, Wash., June 4.—Villapa Harbor oyster growers are daily enlarging their beds here, following the removal of railroad restrictions on the transportation of seed oysters from the coast. The Toke Oyster company received three carloads of seed oysters recently, while a total of 13 cars are moving from the coast today.

Buying is being done on the Atlantic coast by H. W. Gardner, general manager of the company.

Child Asleep Four and a Half Days, Recovers

Dallas, Ore., June 4.—After a four and one-half days' sleep the little child of Mrs. Viola Williams of Portland, being cared for by Mrs. Adams, this city, is awake today and on the road to recovery from a mysterious illness. Local physicians believed the child suffered an attack of sleeping sickness.

Weakness condition marked the effects of the long sleep. Doctors say the child will thoroughly recover within 60 days.

Worst of Answers.

A certain Kansas City physician will never know just how near death he was the other day when, after a thorough examination of probably the brightest, sweetest and altogether supreme nine-months-old baby in the world, the mother asked: "Well, what do you think about my baby?" and he said: "Oh, it's a normal baby."—Kansas City Star.

Children of Belgium Year Behind Mentally and Physically

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.] Knoxville, Tenn., June 4.—Every child in Belgium shows the year's undevelopment both mentally and physically, announced Miss L. E. Carter, principal of a school at Brussels, in an address at the Southern Sociological Congress here. Miss Carter spoke of child welfare. Sir Arthur Newholme represented the British government in discussing this question, and the Julia Smith spoke for the United States government.

Miss Carter in her address added: "The boys have lost as much as three pounds on the average, and the girls have lost as much as four pounds. This is the exterior result only. We fear that the stocks of the war have worked on their nervous systems until it will be serious detriment to them in later years. Add to this the abnormal atmosphere in which they lived for four years—the awful strain, the uncertainty and the constant fear. You people here must imagine, but we have actually seen it, how it would feel to lie down to sleep every night without the knowledge of whether you would be awakened and told to get your bundle of clothes always by your side and leave your home as refugees. It was not possible to sleep soundly and well in such conditions and under such a strain. Then many of the children who were forced to leave their homes died on the march. They were actually frightened to death. Then at home the children could not help hearing the wailing mothers. These brave women did not know how they were to live from one day to another, and this anxiety was naturally communicated to the children."
